"During the period under review considerable foreign gold has been shipped to New York under instructions from the Honorable, the Secretary of the Treasury, to be converted into United States currency at its bullion value and returned to Havana. This foreign gold accumulates in the treasury of the island. It is received under the President's order of December 28, 1898, in payments of customs and other duties at the following prices which are a large part of the time slightly in excess of the market value of the coins: Alphonof the market value of the coins: Alphonsinos (25 peseta piece), $4.82; Louis (20 franc piece), $3.86.

STORY OF A SLAVE.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., eags: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. It is a godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Treasury Officials Considering Plans for Relief of Stranded Miners.

The question of bringing back the hungry gold-hunters stranded at Cape Nome is giving much concern to officials here. Press despatches from San Francisco yesterday brought word that 4,000 men at Nome have signed a petition calling upon the President for relief. The petition has not yet reached here, and it is not likely to do co the Accountants Praise the Ex- for a week at least. The Treasury officials, however, are already considering what shall be done to aid the men. SAVED BY A HUMAN CHAIN.

A Man in Peril on the Palisades Res cued by Athletes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.-Three stalwart New York young men, in a human chain swung from the top of the Palisades at Clifton Park, Weehawken, N. J., Sunday afternoon, and rescued from peril Edward "The act of 1863 does not abridge any privilege or right secured to citizens, either by the Constitution of the United States or by that of the Commonwealth; nor does it deprive any of property without due They intended going to New York by way space.

Then he called for his friends, who gave the alarm. A crowd soon gathered at the top of the cliff. Everyone was making suggestions, but no one was willing to put them into execution until three young men mission on the question of ticket scalping, and the impression made upon the minds of its members as to its frafidulent character as evidenced in the reports, and added: "While the Legislative body may be conceded a larger discretion in pronouncing upon the moral character of the a s in respect to which they have legislated, yet is the corroboration of their judgment accepted from a source created by national authority, with national opportunity and obligation to obtain accurate information." Their reports further show that, the evil appearing great, the Commission has, on more than one occasion, advocated the passage of legislation by Congress, not differing greatly from the Pennsylvania act, in order that the business of the ticket broker might be stamped out by national authority."

The Hotel Employe Accused of Robbery Still Held.

There were practically no new developments today in the case of James Peyton the colored houseman employed at the Cochran Hotel, and who was arrested yesterday by Detectives Weedon and Parhan terday by Detectives Weedon and Parham on suspicion of having robbed the trunk of Miss Maggie McNally, pantry woman at the hotel, of $1,000. Peyton is still in custody and will not be arraigned in all probability until Thursday. Detective Parham is now in Philadelphia trying to secure evidence against the suspect and Detective Weedon is similarly engaged in this city. is similarly engaged in this city.

Though the police claim that circumstances point to the guilt of Peyton he still insists that he is innocent. Major Sylvester has offered a reward of $100 for imfornation that will establish the gult of the person who robbed Miss McNally and lead to the recovery of her money.
